

"Look out there's an artist in the business school doing research"

A quest for an appropriate methodology

Lisa Philip-Harbutt
Arts and Cultural Management Program
International Graduate School of Management
University of South Australia
Masters
1999-2003

Contents

First word		... 1
Chapter One:	the size and shape of our map	... 8
	Decision-making in the arts and cultural sector	... 9
	Looking for a process	... 12
	Co-researchers	... 14
	Key words and concepts	... 15
	Summary	... 23
Reflection stop		... 25
Chapter Two:	the landscape in which we are traveling	... 26
	Introduction	... 27
	Function of the arts in society	... 28
	Issues in the arts and cultural sectors	... 45
	The local context	... 66
	Summary	... 76
Reflection stop		... 78
Chapter Three:	finding an appropriate vehicle	...79
	Introduction	... 80
	Description of Action Research	... 82
	Our make and model of Action Research	... 93
	Summary	... 103
Reflection stop		... 104

Chapter Four:	the journey	... 105
	Introduction	... 106
	The participants	... 108
	The Action Research Workshops	... 110
	Content Analysis	... 123
	Ratification by participant group	... 127
	Prioritization by participant and non-participants	... 130
	Observations	... 145
Reflection stop		... 149
Chapter Five:	the edge of the map	... 150
	Introduction	... 151
	Evaluation of process	... 152
	Reflection on the usefulness of methodology	... 154
	Concluding remarks	... 157
Last word		...160
Bibliography		... 168
Appendix 1-	Video Scripts	... 187
Appendix 2-	Workshop publicity	... 202
Appendix 3-	Workshop participants Data Collection Forms	... 203
Appendix 4-	Workshop participants Group Action Planning Forms	... 208
Appendix 5-	Script from video presentation	... 213
Appendix 6-	Table of Matrix results	... 221